CHARGES UNDUE DELAY

Says Bump Stalled When Department Was Asked to Press Rule Book Case

Madison—Testimony by W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner, intended to link Attorney General Herman L. Ekern with insurance interests affected by the insurance
code revision bill Thursday was before the special senatorial commission
investigating charges made by Smith
against the attorney general.

Having touched upon the allegations of undue delay in the prosecution of a case involving insurance rates, counsel for Mr. Smith was prepared to continue introduction of testimony along this line. The inquiry got under way Wednesday, with Ralph W. Jackman, Madison attorney representing Mr. Smith, questioning the commissioner.

Commissioner Smith testified that he had asked Mr. Ekern to press the rule book case involving insurance rates to conclusion. Franklin E.
Bump, assistant attorney general,
who handled the case, Smith said, had made formal objection to continuance in Dane-co circuit court, "as of the matter." Frank Gilbert, counsel for Mr. Ekern, objected to the latter remark and it was stricken from the record.

Evidence in the form of letter-
heads, reports of insurance companies and records of insurance organizations' conventions was offered to show alleged connections of the attorney general with the private interests. Mr. Ekern's name appeared in the letterhead of the Beavers Insurance company last April as "general counsel." It was testified that the Beavers company had opposed
the insurance code revision bill, Mr.
Smith said.

Dr. W. A. Fricke, former insurance commissioner, who drafted the bill pending in the legislature, sought the attorney general's advice in its preparation. Mr. Smith testified, "but it was not possible for Mr. Ekern to give his time to the matter," he added. The commissioner admitted however, that he had seen Dr. Fricke and Mr. Ekern in conference in the former's office, although he did not hear the discussion.

RECEIVED $10,000

Other testimony by Mr. Smith was that Ekern had represented the Equitable Fraternal union in matters
before the insurance commission;
that the attorney general was a director of the General Insurance company of Madison, which would be affected by the insurance bill; that he owned $2,500 in stock of the Insurance Investment company, with which the General company was connected; that the report of the Acadia
Mutual Life association of Washington, D. C., showed that Ekern's firm had received $10,000 in fees as special counsel during 1923, and that Ekern had suggested that Smith ask the emergency board to refund taxes alleged to have been illegally collected from the New York Life Insurance company.

Chairman Southoff asked Jackman
if his contention was that a conflict
of interests was involved in Mr.
Ekern representing insurance companies.

"Yes, and no," said Jackman.
"That is for the committee to decide.
We are trying to show that Mr.
Smith had a right to send a letter to members of the senate suggesting that it might be well to investigate
Mr. Ekern's activities."

The counsel said the commissioner's contention was that when the attorney general appeared before the senate in opposition to the insurance
bill, his firm was representing certain associations vitally affected by the bill.

Chairman Southoff then said it was his opinion that it was "perfectly proper for the attorney general to handle private matters inside and outside of the state as long as they don't conflict with the public's interests."

Commissioner Smith testified that
the insurance business was highly competitive, that there was a "bitter feud" between the stock companies and mutuals and that Mr. Janiesch Ekern's partner, had appeared in behalf of mutuals to endeavor to have them removed from the compulsory provisions of the rating law.

AMERICANS REHEARSE FOR RECEPTION AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

London—This was an anxious day for 16 Americans and approximately 350 others who Thursday night made their initial bow to King George and Queen Mary at the first royal court of the season,
in Buckingham palace. The presentations are to be made by Mrs.
Houghton, wife of the ambassador.

As the hour of the presentation
approached, it was decided to do away with the rehearsal at Crewe House, the ambassador's residence,
where last year a mimic court was held the day before the real thing.

The dressmakers this year held miniature courts of their own, with experienced men and women on hand to give instruction concerning courtesies, the knack of handling trains and other points relating to the etiquette of the occasion.

BORAH ADVISES USE OF AXE ON TRADE BUREAU

Says Commission Is no Longer Protection to Small Business Interests

Washington—William E. Humphrey, newest member of the federal trade commission, in questioning the right of the senate to direct it to gather information for the senate, has drawn from Senator Borah the statement that the commission should be abolished. Indications are that efforts to that end will be made at the next congress.

The senator, commenting on an address by Mr. Humphrey before the convention of the United States
Chamber of Commerce Wednesday
declared "it is perfectly apparent"
that the commission "is not going to be of any service to the country."

Mr. Humphrey had declared the commission had received from the senate several resolutions requesting investigations not directly relating to alleged anti-trust law violations, with which he said the commission is primarily concerned. Mentioning resolutions by Senators Shipstead, LaFollette and Norris, he said, "it is clear and apparent that the primal motive in all of them is political; to advance the personal fortunes of some persons,
party or class."

In the interest of economy and peace in the business world, Senator Borah said, "it would be better to abolish the commission."

He declared the commission is no longer a protection to the small business interests and "the purpose of its creation cannot under existing conditions be realized."

ELLINGSON GIRL FOUND SANE, TO GO ON TRIAL

San Francisco—Arrangements were underway Thursday for the reopening of the trial of Dorothy Eling-son, 17-year-old "jazz girl," charged with the murder of her mother at their home here Jan. 12. The girl was adjudged insane about two months ago.

The girl is to be returned to the county jail here Friday the medical state of the Napa state hospital having declared her sane after 30 days
of close observation.

Both the defense counsel and relatives of the "jazz mad" disciple of the bright lights expressed astonishment at the verdict reached by the hospital authorities.

Consider Illinois Man For College President

Emphatic denial of the report that
Dr. J. C. Baker, head of Wesley foundation of the University of Illinois,
has been offered the presidency of Lawrence college by the college board of trustees, was made Thursday morning by college trustees. The report was printed in Milwaukee papers
and carried on press wires.

The trustees admitted however,
that Dr. Baker is being favorably considered by the special committee which was appointed to consider a successor to the late Dr. Samuel Plantz. It was explained that this special committee has no authority to elect a president nor to offer the presidency to any one and that no definite

SENATE FAILS TO CONCUR IN CIGARET BILL

Measure to Turn Over Inheritance Tax to Common Schools Also Succeeds

Madison—The University of Wisconsin and state normal schools appropriation bills went through the assembly Thursday in the form in which they passed the senate and now go to the governor. The university bill was concurred in, 82 to 7, and the normal school measure, 68 to 22.

The University bill carries approximately $6,000,000 for operation and $1-500,000 for buildings during the biennium. The normal bill appropriates
$4,000,000 for operation and $350,000
for buildings.

Most of the fight centered on the normal measure, but efforts to change
it were futile. The assembly rejected an amendment by Assemblyman Gwidt to add $300,000 for establishment of a school at Rhineland, an amendment by Assemblyman Goodman, to require tuition fees of at least $65 annually, and another by Assemblyman Cushman, Viola, eliminating the $550,000 for capital improvements
at Oshkosh, Stevens Point and River Falls.

An effort by Assemblyman Math-
Koenigs, Fond du Lac, to require a $65 resident tuition fee at the state university likewise was defeated, 54
to 23.

IN SPITE OF suggestions from Senator
Alva E. Garey, administration floor leader, that "Governor Blaine could do nothing else but veto the bill because it work a treasury depletion,"
the state senate Wednesday night by a vote of 18 to 11 passed on to the executive the A. E. Smith assembly
bill to turn all of the share of the state
from inheritance tax collections into a common school fund.

The senator waived before the senate a prospect of a special session of the legislature in the event the bill became law. Administration senators were divided on the bill, but the leaders were on the losing side.

The estimated revenue from inheritance tax is more than two million dollars annually.

A strenuous fight was waged to save the Gwidt cigarette tax bill from defeat
but administration senators joined with conservatives and effected non-concurrence, moved by Senator John C. Schumann. The roll call disclosed only seven progressives voting against non-concurrence. The bill also would have turned the revenue, estimated at more than $2,000,000 annually into the common school fund income, except the $100,000 salvaged through an addition by Senator Howard Teasdale for fighting forest fires.

5 HURT IN GUN FIGHT FOR NEGRO CRIMINALS

Dallas, Tex.—Five men were wounded, one seriously, in an exchange of shots between officers
guarding the Dallas-co jail and a mob
of about 200 persons shortly after 1 o'clock Thursday morning.

The mob bent on taking Frank and Lorenzo Noel, negro brothers indicted Wednesday in connection with two murder and criminal assault cases,
was driven back after about 20 shots had been fired. Light Stewart was the most seriously wounded. He was shot in the side and his recovery is doubtful.

The rush which resulted in the shooting, started when a band of men, armed with rocks and bottles, attacked the line of policemen and firemen who were guarding the west side of the jail building. Many missiles were directed at the firemen who attempted to beat the mob back with streams of water.

STONE LAKE FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF NEAR MILLION

Northeast Wind Helps Situation by Fanning Back
Flames to Burned Area

By Associated Press
Laona—General conditions were reported improved early Thursday when the night shift of forest fires was relieved by the day crew. A light northeast wind was blowing, fanning the flames back to areas already burned.

Forest rangers reported progress against the fire which broke out in virgin timber at Wabigoon Lake, east of Laona. Late Wednesday this fire was out of control.

Townfolk were disappointed
Wednesday night, when a canopy of black rain clouds passed over this section without leaving a drop of moisture. Advice from points south of here in Oconto were to the effect that rain relieved the situation that had threatened Townsend and Mountain. The Stone Lake fire, near Crandon, where the loss to virgin timber
was estimated at near a million dollars, assumed menacing proportions late Wednesday. An emergency call was sounded, and the surrounding towns were asked to rush all available help, along with fire hose to be used in connection with the pumps
that had been installed in the lake.

Pumping of water from the lake
proved effective, it was said, in saving
summer homes along the shore.

A section of high tension line running from here to High Falls, an I belonging to the Wisconsin Public Service company, was threatened Wednesday. Twenty employees of the company were out patrolling the line.

France Relieved As Debt Scare Proves Exaggerated

Ontario Mecca For Thirsty Americans As Beer Returns

By Associated Press
Ottawa—Real beer was on sale locally Thursday in Ontario, Canada's tannery province, for the first time in eight years and thirty Americans in the border cities took full advantage
of their opportunities.

In 1917 the whole dominion went dry as a war measure. After the war
the liquor question in each of the nine provinces was left to referendum.

Ontario voted twice on the subject,
the drys winning each time. The provincial legislature lately amended the act to legalize the sale of 24 per cent
beer under restrictions.

The provincial authorities regard
this 4.4 per cent beer as non-intoxicating
and perhaps it is going to disappoint
parched throats from Volstead land.
It is 4.4 per cent alcohol by weight of 2.5 by volume, with a kick presumably less potent than the disappointing 2.5
beer sold in the United States under the same prohibition. The one-half of

DAVIS ACQUITTED BY JURY, FACES ANOTHER CHARGE

Former Kansas Governor to Have Trial on Second Bribery Accusations

By Associated Press
Topeka, Kas.—Cleared by a jury in the first case in which the state asked his conviction, former Governor Johnathan M. Davis Thursday faced the prospect of trial on another bribery
charge growing out of the partisan scandal which broke out in the last days of his administration early this year.

A jury after deliberating three hours and taking four ballots Wednesday night, returned a verdict of not guilty for Mr. Davis on a charge of conspiracy with Carl J. Peterson, former state bank commissioner, to solicitor a bribe on a pardon for Walter Grandy, convicted bank wrecker. On the first ballot the jurors stood ten to two for acquittal.

There remains now against the former governor and his son Russell G.
Davis, a charge of accepting a bribe in connection with the issuance of a pardon to Fred W. Pollman, convicted forger.

State attorneys, headed by Attorney General C. E. Griffith, have indicated
they were prepared to push the second case, but no announcement of the prosecution's plans was made following Wednesday night's verdict.

Leaving the court room where he had spent eight days on trial, Mr.
Davis said he had received the vindication he expected.

State Sends Detectives to Benton Harbor to Search
for Missing Witness

DEFENSE CRIES FRAMEUP

Produces Affidavit to Show
White Intended to Testify for Shepherd

By Associated Press
Chicago—The laborious process of selecting a jury to try William D.
Shepherd, Chicago lawyer for the alleged murder of his rich foster-son, William X. McClintock, ran third in interest Thursday to two outside sensations connected with the case. The forenoon court session produced no addition to the three jurors numbered as tentatively selected since Monday.

Grand jury investigation of the disappearance of Robert White, wanted
as witness by the prosecution, continued, as did a nation-wide search for the man. His disappearance brought a statement from William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, in defense of Shepherd, that the missing witness had made an affidavit that the case against Shepherd was a "frameup"
and that he was wanted as a defense
witness.

Their statement also took cognizance
of the second sensation when they termed Philip J. Barry, a venieman who reported to the state's attorney
some one had promised to pay him if he would work his way on to the jury
and act in behalf of defense.

HOUSE OF CARDS
"The conspiracy against Shepherd is a house of cards and is being blown to pieces and to the four corners of the earth by the four winds of truth,"
said the statement by Stewart and O'Brien. "The case obviously is a
'frameup' simply but not pure."

"Witnesses relied upon in this frame-up are now beginning to flock to the defense. I believe that both Clark and White will be witnesses for the defense and will tell the truth under the protection of the court." Clark Wednesday in the presence of Robert Stoll, another witness repudiated the statement that William Scott Stewart
ever offered him a cent and stated that the story which he told to his mother, Mrs. Anna Koch of Waukegan, to the effect that the case against Shepherd was a frameup was absolute ly true.

"White also in a sworn statement
admits he never saw Shepherd at Tal-man's school, and that there never was any live typhoid germs in that institution."

SEARCH CONTINUES
The search for White was pressed
by the state's attorney Wednesday
when his detectives went to St. Joseph, Mich., on the trail of a man, said to answer the description of White, and a woman, who had registered at a hotel there Monday night as "O. W. Os-son and wife." The pair had departed when the detectives arrived and they followed the trail to Benton Harbor, Mich.

Detectives were ordered to arrest a man named by Philip J. Barry, was nirreman as having approached him
Tuesday because he was questioned for jury service.

Barry said he was acquainted with the man who urged him to "work your way onto the jury" and promised to "make it well worth your while."
After he had told a detective that he had been approached, Barry was excused from jury service and later made his statement to the prosecutor. The state's attorney said Barry's was not the only information he had, and that his inquiry included alleged tampering
with witnesses.

LARGE CROWD AT MEETING OF P-T SOCIETY

Woodlawn Parent Teacher association broke all attendance records Wednesday evening at a box social held in the Woodlawn school, when more than 30 members attended. Sufficient money was raised by the social to install an outside light at the schoolhouse. Lorinda Turkel, Pearl Rohm, and Grace Miller, pupils of the school, gave several readings, after which the social proceeded.
Boxes of lunch had been arranged by the ladies of the association and sold at a nominal charge. The men who had paid for them then were blindfolded and allowed to choose one box each. A curious coincidence occurred when the man who drew the last box found that he had drawn his own wife as partner.
This was the final meeting of the season. School will be closed Monday, and from then on no further meeting will be held until the beginning of the new school year in September, when new officers will be elected.

CAMPUS ACTORS FINISHING WORK OF COLLEGE PLAY

"Three Sheets in the Wind"
Provides Opportunity for Vaudeville Skits

Three feature acts by college talent are woven into the first scene of "Three Sheets in the Wind." The first annual production to be presented at Fischer's Appleton Theater June 1. Among the three is a tumbling act in true "big top" style by John "Jake" Zussman of Appleton, college junior, and his diminutive brother. Two jazz producers, names not to be mentioned, will do work on two separate pianos, and Harry Sedmore and James Archie, glee club veterans, will produce close harmony.

With Harold Zuehlke and Reynolds Challoner, Appleton, experienced lighting experts, in charge of the lighting effects, the moonlight scene in the second act of the musical comedy promises to thrill even the most hardened of theater goers. Solos by Isabel Wilcox, Appleton, and Ellsworth Stiles, conservatory student, are sung in this setting. This act also contains the Mermaid chorus, led by Ruth Bjornstad, '27, and her troupe of deep-sea beauties.

"Three Sheets in the Wind" is a 3-act musical comedy and contains many opportunities for introducing novelty dances and song numbers. All the work is original within the club. The orchestration has been received from the Harry Alford Co., of Chicago, and the finishing touches are being given to the chorus by Dorothy Asst. Appleton, and Mrs. Bannister of the Bannister Dancing academy, in charge of the dancing. Tickets will be placed on sale this week. A number of requests for seats have been received from out-of-town, but the club will endeavor to supply local wants first. The price range will vary from $1.50 to .50, according to the seat locations. John Pinedick, '27, will be in charge of the ticket sale, and tickets may be obtained from him at the Delta Iota house on Union-st.

START NEW COURSE AT COLLEGE CONSERVATORY

A chair of Theory and Composition will be established in the Conservatory during the coming year, Cyrus Daniel of Evanston having been engaged to give instruction in this department. Mr. Daniel has degrees of A. B. and Mus. B., and is engaged as organist and choir-master in Evanston.

Mr. Daniel is a composer of distinction and has several years' experience in conservatories, as teacher of harmony, counterpoint, form, fugue, instrumental composition, song composition, key board harmony and ear training. His most recent study in song composition has been with Arne Oldberg. He has been with Carl Beecher in song composition study, and Peter Christian Luthin in anthem composition.

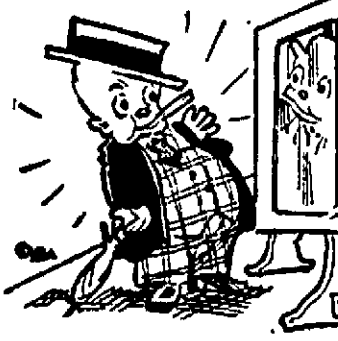

The establishment of the new chair in the music school is the result of a steady growth in attendance, in accordance with the ideals of the Lawrence conservatory. It is made necessary because of the necessity of other professors devoting their entire time to their own department, and it is planned to insure a systematic and enlarged course of study in the department of composition.

MRS. PLANTZ AWARDED CARNEGIE FUND PENSION

Mrs. Samuel Plantz, widow of the late president of Lawrence college, has been granted a pension from the Carnegie fund for widows of college presidents. It is a rule of this foundation that pensions will be granted only to widows who had been married to the deceased ten years before his death, but in Mrs. Plantz's case an exception was made because of the fact that Dr. Plantz had on the board of trustees of the foundation ever since its inauguration.

DECIDE CITIES RACE AT STATE MEETING IN FALL

Whether Appleton obtains the prize in the better cities contest for being the best place in Wisconsin in which to rear a child will be determined at a statewide meeting of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work Oct. 14, 15 and 16, according to word received here from Aubrey Williams, executive secretary of the conference.

Cities besides Appleton in the contest are Janesville, Ashland, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Kenosha, Ladysmith, Oshkosh, Racine, Sheboygan, Sparta, Superior, Waukesha, Waupun, Wausau and Wisconsin Rapids.

MERCHANTS PREPARE FOR FAIR DAY CROWDS

Appleton merchants are preparing for a busy day on Saturday when the monthly stock fair, usually held a week later, will be held. The date of the stockfair was set ahead one week because Memorial day comes on the last Saturday of the month, and on that day all stores will be closed.

The Country department of Appleton Women's club will meet at the clubhouse on the corner of Harris and N. Oneida-sts. and will serve to establish closer contact between the women of the city and country.

WISCONSIN PAPER INDUSTRY GROWS

Big Increase in Number of Employees and in Value of Products in Two Years

A substantial increase both in the number of laborers employed, the amount of wages paid and the value of the products of the paper industry in Wisconsin is evident from a census report of the United States department of commerce, comparing the year 1923 with 1921.

While there were five factories less in 1923 than in 1921, presumably through consolidation, there were a thousand more employees, a million dollars more paid in wages and about $4,000,000 more credited to value of paper and wood pulp products.

There were in the state 57 establishments in 1923, as compared with 52 two years previous, and these employed 15,709 persons, as against 12,662 in 1921, who received $15,569,794 in wages, as compared with $14,887,466 two years previous. The value of products totaled $90,923,538, whereas the value of products for 1921 was $77,018.

Another industry that is well represented in the Fox river valley besides paper, is the knitting industry, and this, too, shows an increase in the same columns. Knitting establishments in Wisconsin increased in 1923 from 65 to 66, wage earners from 9,778 to 12,176, wages from $8,718,044 to $11,003,349 and the value of knit products from $49,151,937 to $65,015,720.

The value of all factory products in Wisconsin (at factory prices) in 1923 was $1,721,501,000 an increase of 41.7 per cent. The figures relate to plants whose output was more than $5,000. The average number of wage earners was 247,737, an increase of 29.2 per cent.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR GOLF BUILDING

Ground already has been broken for the new locker house which Winnegamie Land Co. voted Saturday to build for Butte des Morts Golf club at the links on Winnegamie-rd. The foundation will be laid within a day or two and the superstructure then will be rushed through.

Completion is expected by July 20, according to present indications. It is the desire of the club to have the building available for use of members for as much of the season as possible. Space for about 200 lockers will be provided in the building, together with shower baths, a lounging room and quarters for the professional.

FIRE CHIEF'S SALARY BELOW STATE AVERAGE

Appleton is one of about 23 cities in Wisconsin that have paid fire departments, while 10 cities in the state have volunteer departments, according to a report of the municipal information bureau of the University of Wisconsin extension division. Salaries of chiefs in the 23 cities that maintain paid departments, the report states, range from $200 to $5,500, the latter figure being the salary of the Milwaukee chief. Volunteer fire chiefs, on the other hand, are paid by the hour, and often a stipulated amount each year, from $10 to $950, or one dollar for the first two hours and 50 cents for the rest.

The salary of the Appleton fire chief is $2,340 per year, or $135 a month. Kenosha Racine and Madison pay their chiefs $3,000 a year; Beloit, Eau Claire, Janesville and Oshkosh $2,400; Green Bay $2,280; Manitowish $2,200; and Waukesha and Wausau $2,100.

Sylvester Was Friend Of Miles--But Didn't Know It

The death of Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, noted warrior, which occurred on Friday, recalled to the mind of Harry Sylvester of this city the peculiar manner in which he made the acquaintance of the famous Indian fighter a few years ago.

Harry, then a member of the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Baseball Association was on his way to New Orleans for spring training. While he was sitting in one of the cars of an Illinois Central train an aged man got on at a small Illinois junction. They became acquainted as travelers do and Sylvester talked, ate dinner and smoked with his new friend without learning his identity. The stranger stated that he was on his way to Texas and Mexico on some research work.

When they left the train at the Louisiana metropolis, Harry carried his acquaintance's baggage. As they stepped from the train, they were greeted by a brass band in full action and a cheering, hat-waving crowd. The general shook hands and wished a much-puzzled Harry good luck and it was not until the next day when a picture appeared in the newspaper that he recognized his erstwhile friend as the famous general.

AWARD HONORS AT 4TH WARD SCHOOL

Pupils Are Rewarded for Proficiency in Scholarship and Sports

Presentation of the Y. M. C. A. basketball pennant won in competition with other grade schools of the city was one of the main features of the program of awards conducted by F. B. Younger, principal of the Fourth District school Tuesday. A. P. Jensen, athletic director of the Y. M. C. A. made the presentation, and Herman Wolfgram, captain of the team, delivered the speech of acceptance.

Large "S"s were awarded to Henry Lewis, Jess Halverson, Herman Wolfgram and Elmer Jensen, for unusual proficiency in scholastic subjects, basketball, baseball and volleyball. Proficiency in scholastic subjects and two of the sports resulted in the award of medium sized letters to Floyd Hill, Leonard Burhans, Harry Smith, Gilbert Rettler, Delmont Bradford and Clarence Bauernfeld, while Harry Hove, Joe Piette, Charles Davidson, Floyd Hanson, Norman Fredericks and Elmer Horn received small letters for scholarship and excellence in one of the sport branches. Walter T. Fox awarded the emblems. Reta J. Vorheis and Henry Lewis gave short talks as part of the program, which also included songs and yells. George Plumber was yelmanster. The singing of South Side Will Shine, the song of the Fourth District school, concluded the program.

SENSIBLE POLICY

We are to take as authoritative the statement of Senator Watson of Indiana to the special senate committee investigating prohibition that it is the purpose of the president to make the United States dry in fact as well as name. Mr. Watson declares that the government's present drive against the rum fleet off the Atlantic coast is but the beginning of an intensive campaign, nation-wide in its scope, to enforce prohibition. Senator Watson is a Republican and close to the administration, and men in his position do not essay to speak for the president unless they have permission to do so. Furthermore, they must be particular in what they say and guard their utterances with discretion.

After quoting the president's purposes, Senator Watson appends this further elaboration of the subject, without, however, attaching it to Mr. Coolidge: "If, after its enforcement to the limit, the people do not want to stand for it, it is for the people to say so, and it can be modified." There may or may not be the significance to this declaration attached by some of the newspapers in their headlines, although it is not improbable that it actually does reflect the views of the president.

We think this policy is exactly the policy the administration should follow and that it is exactly what the country needs. The prohibition amendment to the constitution was adopted in an orderly and legu manner. It became the supreme law of the land. Congress passed an enforcing act, wholly within its power, and that law is the law of the land. It is the duty of the government to enforce this law, and there has never been any other possible construction of its duty. The law, however, has not been enforced. We have not had prohibition or anything resembling prohibition. We have had conditions that were deplorable both from the standpoint of law enforcement and from the standpoint of liquor abuses. There had to come a time when there would be a reckoning for this situation is intolerable. The country cannot be dry in name and wet in fact without serious consequences.

Since the country elected through its constitutional channels to be dry, there is only one proper course to pursue, and that is to make it dry. The way to do this is to stop up the sources of large supply and then carry the enforcement into local communities. Not until the United States is made bone dry, and this can be done for all intents and purposes if the government so determines, will the people know whether prohibition is the policy they really wish and whether the experiment is a success. It will be fair to all interests concerned, the drys, the wets, the government and everybody, to put this law into rigid effect. If we like the results prohibition will become a permanent fact. If we do not like them, it will be modified. That will be for the people to say. The conditions which have prevailed up to this time have been a national disgrace and a public calamity. It is time to look prohibition squarely in the face and either establish or modify it.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Government bureaus are becoming unpopular with the American people who are beginning to sense a trend in the United States toward the bureaucratic in federal administration. Being a bureau the United States department of agriculture naturally comes under the public suspicion, but if there ever comes a time when the taxpayers undertake to reverse the pendulum this federal bureau will be one of the last to go if it goes at all.

If the department of agriculture had been in existence fifty years ago the potato bug would not now be destroying potatoes of a value of millions of dollars each year, the boll weevil would still be confined to Central America instead of preying on the cotton crop in the South, there would have been no blight to destroy the chestnut trees and the crops and trees would have been spared other blights and pestilential parasites.

Since its inception in 1889 this department has saved the growers uncounted millions. A ban, recently placed on the importation of certain flower bulbs, is expected to save growers and garden makers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

DRAINING IN HOLLAND

The Netherlands are engaging in a mighty enterprise, comparable, for them, to the Panama canal or the proposed St. Lawrence seaway—and indeed comparable regardless of the size of the countries concerned. For the draining of the Zuider Zee now under way will cost about $150,000,000 as compared to the $250,000,000 estimate for the St. Lawrence seaway and the $400,000,000 for the canal.

Little Holland by this heroic piece of engineering is damming up and turning from an arm of the North Sea to a little freshwater lake a territory about twice the area of Grand Traverse bay. It is winning to cultivation about 540,000 acres of submerged land. The big dam will be twenty miles long, with shipping locks, a road for vehicles and two railroad tracks on top.

When the project gets further under way it is said Holland may have to float a special loan. The American market would be just the place for that. We are great wrestlers with perverse nature ourselves: Chicago is eternally encroaching on the lake, dams are reclaiming vast areas of our dry west, and we can feel a true sympathy with courageous Hollanders who are attempting a like enterprise on only a fraction of our resources. But probably Holland will have little trouble finding the money right at home.

LAW IN THE HOME

Addressing an audience of Daughters of the American Revolution in his first speech as a cabinet member, Attorney General Sargent says: "The country is safe, society is safe, when the law is obeyed—not because it is enforced." A law merely made operative through force cannot be really effective on society. That is merely holding down the lid. The moment the force is removed, the law will cease to operate. Law is really effective only when people recognize it and obey it voluntarily.

The attorney-general evidently had a purpose in talking thus to a group of patriotic women. He addressed them not as lawbreakers, but as mothers and homemakers, who with the rest of their kind have the nation's destiny in their hands. It is in the home that voluntary obedience to law is learned—or not learned. Children live out, through their lives, what they have absorbed in their homes. Uncle Sam's chief law enforcer asks, by implication, how children can be expected to grow up law-abiding when they see law prohibition law for instance, broken habitually at home.

Health Talks

TUBERCULOUS ARTHRITIS

In a thousand cases of chronic arthritis (joint inflammation) caused by infection of the bones and other joint structures by the tuberculous bacillus, other joint structures by the tuberculous bacillus, and Crippled, New York, the joints affected are as follows: spine, 375 cases; hip, 340 cases; knee, 215 cases; ankle or small bones of the foot, 45 cases; elbow, 12 cases; wrist, nine cases; shoulder, four cases.

Tuberculosis of the spine, which appears to be the most frequent of joint or bone tuberculosis, affects both the joints between the bones (vertebrae) and the bodies of the vertebrae. It is commonly called Pott's disease, and physicians sometimes refer to it as caries of the spine, which is a crude term, handed down from the benighted past when the doctors didn't know what tuberculosis was. Caries means "rotteness," and there is nothing like that in tuberculous arthritis or any other form of tuberculosis, to the intelligent mind.

The deformity popularly known as "hunchback" is in most cases the result of tuberculosis of the spine in childhood, but this is generally preventable if the disease is recognized in its early stage and the child given the proper care and treatment. There is a serious obstacle to recognition and treatment of Pott's disease, for the disease is not prevalent among the unenlightened portion of the population and parents of limited intelligence will deliberately conceal such ailments from medical attention because they imagine it is disgraceful to have a cripple in the family, or something like that. This is a regrettable effect of the cruel popular custom of looking upon the physically handicapped individual as inferior. In fact the majority of such crippled children and adults are of superior intelligence, and the world owes much to the contributions of physically handicapped individuals.

It would probably do more harm than good to attempt to describe the development and course of tuberculosis of the spine here, for nearly every mother whose young one complains now and then of bellyache or sideache would wonder if the child is getting Pott's disease. When a child habitually assumes the prone posture (lying on its stomach) in sleep and shows a constant desire to rest across a chair or mother's lap (to take weight off the spine) and seems abnormally careful about avoiding jars when getting into or out of bed or in standing up from a sitting position, then it would be wise to have the physician examine the child.

Pott's disease (tuberculosis of the spine) generally passes through three stages. First, the stage of referred pains (such as bellyache and sideache frequently recurring) and such postural habits as mentioned in the preceding paragraph. Second, rigidity of the region of the spine involved, a natural protective effort of the muscles; this is manifest to the casual observer in the stiffness and awkwardness of certain movements. Third, the child's abnormal custom and care to avoid jars or active efforts, but the physician observes the muscle spasm even when the parent has noticed nothing of the sort. Third, the stage of deformity, usually what the physician calls kyphosis, a backward hump, hunchback. Each of these stages lasts many months, as a rule, and merges gradually into the succeeding stage.

Suitable provision for rest of the spine, by means of braces, plaster of Paris jackets or other appliances, as suggested by the spasmodic protective effort of the muscles, must be made. Then probably the best treatment for the disease is the Rollier sunbath treatment, as now employed in many institutions in America.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The book you recommended, "Outwitting Our Nerves," by Dr. Josephine A. Jackson, is published by the Century Company, New York, and the price is $2.50. It is indeed a splendid book. I have a copy, which I found in our bookstore, (P. L. L.).

LOOKING BACKWARD

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, May 24, 1900.

A business block in the west end was threatened by destruction when a fire occurred at 2 o'clock this morning in one of the sheds back of Jankow's grocery store. The blaze had gained considerable headway when Officer Otto Zuehlke discovered it and turned in an alarm.

The price of lemons, which were now selling at 20 cents a dozen, was expected to advance within the next few days. John Hackworthy of the Hackworthy Construction Co. signed a contract for $3,000 worth of brick paving at Manitowish.

Miss Lillian Gilbert, who had been teaching in Lincoln school was engaged at Wausau for the coming year.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hehllein, Black Creek, was killed instantly yesterday when it fell from a windmill tower to which it had climbed.

A marriage license was issued to Richard J. Rhode and Mary G. Imm, both of Appleton.

AT A BASKET SOCIAL at Wood-lawn school last night men were blindfolded and picked their baskets for partners in that way. Dol Genes cracked a mean one about how thrilling it would be if a man should pick his own wife.

Men might as well pick their partners blindfolded for they couldn't do much better with their eyes open. Neither could the women, if they were given the choice.

Funny how person will marry a lemon, get a divorce and do the same thing over again. No wonder they say love is blind.

ROLLO

MAYFLOWER IS AN ELITE YACHTNavy Once Used President's
Ship in Defense Work During War Periods

From The Pathfinder.

The frequent newspaper reports about President Coolidge and his family entertaining friends on board the Mayflower for short cruises down the Potomac "fall to" give the public any real information other than the movements of the chief executive.

The white-hulled vessel itself is rich in historic lore. It was designed by an Englishman and built by a British firm. It was purchased from the estate of Ogden Golet by the United States navy department in March, 1895, for $420,000.

During the Spanish-American war the vessel at this U. S. S. Mayflower served in the blockade off Havana. In 1900 it was detailed to help destitute Americans in San Juan and Porto Rico. Two years later it became the flagship of Admiral Dewey. In 1905 it was converted into the presidential yacht.

Since that time it has served in the exclusive capacity of being at the disposal of our chief executive. Roosevelt was the first president to have the privileges of a private yacht.

The Mayflower is in a measure a mansion afloat. Besides the pleasures of water cruising the comforts and conveniences of the White house are to be found on board this time-honored craft. The entertainment facilities include the Navy band, a radio receiving set, a piano, a motion picture outfit and a talking machine.

Most of the furnishings are of New England style and the old-fashioned New England fireplace is there artificially and is electrically lighted. "The dining room is frequently described as the blue room because of the color scheme. The reception room is large and handsomely furnished. There is a large, comfortable smoking room and a library on board.

The president and his wife have separate bedrooms. Besides these there are seven bedrooms for guests, affording sleeping quarters for 14 visitors. A wardrobe is reserved for the officers of the boat and on the walls of this room hang the portraits and autographed signatures of the five presidents who have had the great pleasure afforded by the use of this handsome yacht.

The observance and customs on the yacht vary, of course, with the different presidents. However, there is nothing formal about these week-end excursions. The officers and aids always try to surround the chief executive with a homelike atmosphere.

One of the first things President Coolidge does after boarding the ship is to do his "waking" cap. With this action is said to come a different air, as though he had laid aside some of the worry and care of his office. Most of the afternoon entertainment is furnished by the Navy band. Tea is served at 4:30 and dinner at 7 in the evening.

At 8 come the movies, and the presidential party, together with the officers and enlisted personnel of the ship, assemble on deck to see the show. The president usually retires to his stateroom about 10:30 like-wise do most of his guests. Some of them, however, prefer to remain on deck to enjoy the breeze and while before going below to their attired services are held aboard on Sunday mornings.

"NO-SMOKING" RULE
NOT FOR STEINMETZ

Long before Charles P. Steinmetz came to Schenectady he was a large consumer of cigars, writes John Winthrop Hammond in "Charles P. Steinmetz: His Life and Work." In the "No Smoking" sign appeared in the Schenectady offices of the General Electric Company, the mathematical genius pluckily disregarded it and smoked as hard as ever.

At the moment there was no special incident over this attitude of his, but a little romantic legend gradually grew up around it, until today in most of the homes of Schenectady and near-by regions the favorite Steinmetz anecdote relates how he stayed home when he found he was not allowed to smoke, and how the company officials hastily capitulated, emptying him completely from the operation of the new rule—then decision accelerated by an unexpected mathematical problem awaiting the attention of the only man in the organization who could do anything with it.

Q. Does the top half of a wheel on a vehicle travel faster than the bottom half? E. E. G.

A. The problem of the wheel may be explained by the fact that the top is moving forward in the direction in which the vehicle is progressing, while the bottom is moving backward or in an opposite direction. To demonstrate this in a practical way, take a coin, mark points at the top and bottom at the starting point directly beneath A and B upon whatever surface the coin is to be rolled. Roll the coin forward a quarter revolution. It will be seen that A moves upon a radius equal to the diameter of the circle and by actual measurement that A has moved a greater distance and described a greater curve than B.

Q. What is the meaning of the letters "Jan" on the end of every Armenian surname? C. B.

A. It is a patronymic indicating descent from the father.

Q. Has Anchorage Alaska, the second largest tide in the world? F. A. C.

A. The Coast & Geodetic Survey says that the Bay of Fundy tides are as far as known, the highest in the world. In Noel Bay, Minas Basin, near the upper end of the Bay of Fundy the mean range of tide is 44.5 feet and spring range 50.5 feet. At Anchorage, which is located on Knik Arm, Cook Inlet, Alaska, the mean range of tide is 27.5 feet and the spring range 29.5 feet. Other localities for which there have been reported ranges of tide equal to or greater than that at Anchorage are as follows: Frobisher Bay, Davis Strait, Canada; Ungava Bay, Hudson Strait, Canada; Port Santa Cruz, Port Calleros, Argentina; Eastern Turn of the Strait of Magellan, Chile; Turn again Arm, Cook Inlet, Alaska; Bay of St. Michael, Alaska; Bristol Channel, Severn River, England.

Girls Will Urge Sale Of Club Hut

The last meeting of the year of Sports council of Appleton Womans club was held Wednesday evening in the club house. Reports of the various committees were turned in to the council and matters of urgent business were discussed. Miss Eleanor J. J. chairman of the publicity committee suggested that one member be in charge of the publicity for each different event during the year. She also suggested that one member of the committee be put in charge of the Sunday cozies for three months, after which another member be placed in charge. Miss Marion Ingethron, chairman of the finance committee, offered a new plan of operating finances, and the policy suggested was taken before the board, and will be acted upon directly.

Miss Isabelle Milhaupt gave the report of the social committee and suggested that there be a Sunday cozy only once in two weeks instead of every week next year. This plan the Sports council agreed with and the matter was referred to next year's Sports council. Miss Marion Verbrick, chairman of the membership committee, recommended that circulars be sent to all girls in the club to be filled out before the close of this year's work each girl could then send in to the club a list of the subjects and activities in which she is interested, and the classes of the club would be guided by these preferences.

The most important business of the meeting was the discussion of the selling of the Womans Club cottage. Happy Hut. The Sports Council as a whole arrived at an agreement in regard to this matter, and the consensus of opinion and the recommendation was taken before the board of the club which will hold a special meeting at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the clubhouse to come to some decision. At a preliminary meeting of the recreational department, the opinion was expressed that it would be wise to sell cottage under certain provisions. This opinion was given to the Sports Council. The board will make its decision on Saturday. Mrs. D. O. Kinnaman and Mrs. C. W. Cross represented the board of directors at the Sports council meeting.

KIWANIS JAUNT CEMENTS BONDS BETWEEN CITIES

Cite Seymour Fair as Connecting Link Between Appleton and Seymour

The Seymour agricultural fair was represented Wednesday evening by both Appleton Kiwanis and Seymour speakers as the link by which it is possible to bind the two cities together in a closer bond of fellowship and business enterprise.

A motor trip by the Appleton Kiwanis club to the country fair city Wednesday evening, followed by a community entertainment, was made the occasion for an exchange of greeting and a renewal of friendships between the two cities.

The event also marked the first appearance of the Appleton high school band in an out-of-town concert. It was under escort of the Kiwanis club and made the trip in a bus. Upon arrival it played two selections on a principal street corner and followed with a more elaborate program at the city park grandstand later in the evening. The musicians first aroused considerable curiosity because of their youth, but after listening to the very first selection the Seymour residents, who turned out in good numbers, recognized quality of musical entertainment. Many of them expressed surprise on learning that the band was organized only this year and that practically all of the members had had no previous training.

WELCOME FOR VISITORS
The motorcade of Kiwanians, their wives and friends and the band arrived a little after 6 o'clock and found the Seymour welcoming crowd waiting for them. The main street of the city had been decorated with flags in honor of the visitors. A basket supper was eaten in Odd Fellow hall where a number of Seymour families joined the Appleton delegation.

Addresses of welcome in behalf of Seymour were made by R. T. Jones, mayor, and Dr. R. C. Finkle, and were responded to by Attorney J. L. Johns, president of the club, and W. T. Hughes, Kiwanis secretary. Short talks also were given by Judge Fred V. Heinemann, Appleton, and Postmaster George F. Fiedler of Seymour. Vocal selections were rendered in the hall by Miss Dorothy Peterson, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Brigham on the piano. Both are of Appleton. Dr. Finkle, who has something of a reputation as a sleight-of-hand performer, responded to requests and entertained the crowd with card tricks.

PRaises FAIR

Mr. Johns, in explaining the purpose of the visit, said that while the Kiwanians were enjoying an outing, they also desired to do their part in further cementing the good feelings between Appleton and Seymour. The latter city is the seat of one of the best county fairs in this section of the country, he asserted, and Appleton is proud to support the institution. In return for this support and cooperation, he declared, Appleton has a right to expect a reasonable patronage from Seymour in the commercial field. Both are in the same county and working for the interests of this country and therefore have much in common. He also expressed the hope that the day would not be far distant when Seymour would have a Kiwanis club that might unite with the Appleton club in support of its announced project.

Mr. Fiedler, who has served the Seymour Driving Park and Fair association for a large number of years, took up the same thread and suggested that there might be still more opportunity for Appleton to boost their country fair at Seymour. He hoped that the Kiwanis club would get back of a movement to have all Appleton business houses close at least half day during fair week in order to allow its employees and encourage residents in general to visit the fair.

EXPECT TO FORM TWO BRANCHES OF LUTHER LEAGUE

More than 130 delegates from all over the state attended the Luther League convention which was held May 16 and 17 in the Hephatha convention hall at Milwaukee. The main purpose of the convention was to organize a state league, but the distance between some of the leagues was so great that it was decided to form two state leagues, one comprising branches in the north and the other those from the southern part of the state.

At the business meeting on Saturday, the Rev. L. F. Gast of Green Bay was the principal speaker, and at the business session on Sunday afternoon, the president of each league spoke. Arrangements are being made for another convention to be held at Racine in September.

Delegates from the Luther League of First English Lutheran church were, Lothar Bleritz, Roland Bleritz, Anton Guerke, Rudolph Guerke, John Wiedman, Marie Kranzsch, Louis Campsaur, Marie Bartsch and Elsa Man.

ONLY ONE FREED IN 33 TRIALS OF WAUPACA COURT

Judge Parks Will Try 13
Liquor Law Violators at Fond du Lac Court

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca — More convictions in criminal cases were secured during the May term of circuit court than for many years. Only one case escaped conviction by the state. That was the case of the state vs. Wallace Foley, charged with unlawful sale of liquor. In this case the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was about to be discharged. Judge Parks in his talk from the bench said he believed the defendant to be guilty though the jury had acquitted him and in his reprimand to Foley told him to go home and behave himself. District Attorney Otto L. Olen has been given credit for his work as prosecutor.

Some are inclined to believe the present salary is not in keeping with what is expected of a district attorney of Waupaca-co. In one instance a lawyer defending a client in the present term, charged his client more than the whole year's salary of the district attorney. One feature that helped to lighten the burden of Mr. Olen was the assistance of additional counsel during the more important cases. Thirty-three criminals, leaves on the docket for one term meant a great deal of work in the preparation and trial of these cases in court. As the county pays the district attorney only $1,000 a year and the attorney has two terms of court each year, in addition to attendance at district courts, a large personal expense is involved.

AWARD DAMAGES
Tuesday night a jury returned a complexing verdict when answering eight questions of the court in the case of Charles Kannenberg vs. Carl Frederickson. The case was the result of an auto collision near state highway No. 26. The jury held both parties equally responsible and awarded a sum of $219 for damages to the plaintiff.

Wednesday a case brought here from Waushara-co was in progress and is the last for the jury. All other jurors not used in that case were excused.

Judge Parks will sit in Judge Fowler's court at Fond du Lac probably Monday and Judge Fowler is to occupy the local bench for the balance of the term to preside and make judgment on cases which are issues for the court. Judge Parks, in the Fond du Lac court, is to hear 13 liquor cases in which the defendants have asked a change of venue. One local liquor violator, O. E. Frihart, asked a change of venue and is to be tried by Judge Fowler at Fond du Lac. The Waupaca-co board adjourned on Tuesday afternoon after a resolution requesting the construction of a concrete road from the city of Waupaca to the Wisconsin Veterans Home had been withdrawn by those presenting it. Mayor Prothro was before the board and the information he presented particularly assured the members of the board that the rails of the railroad along this route would be removed within another year, making the construction of the road more simple and without undue haste. In the meantime the public is forced to make the best of the situation and put up with what can be accomplished in the way of maintenance by a patrolman with the use of a grader.

NAME COMMITTEES
The following standing committees of the board were appointed: Finance, Dobbin, Fisher, Rumensoff, Felton, Biedeman, Arndt and Gloeck; regulation, Kubrach, Wener, Capman, Larson, Lang, Knight and Russell, state aid roads, Schoepke, Jorgenson, Nyhus; general claims, Burgess, Billings, Mally, Hotz; sheriff and constable accounts, Peter, Prill, Huhn, Becker and Jansen; public property, Knight, Huhn, Peter, Glassner and Grove; settle with officers, Wener, Nolan, Jacob, Carow, N. AN OBJECT LESSON TO BOOTLEGGERS

"Bootleggers, this is a result of your product," read a large placard on a wrecked automobile pulled through the streets of Des Moines, Ia., on orders of Chief of Police Cavendar, shown in the inset above. In the car, which was said by the chief to have been wrecked because of a booze party, rode a policeman and a figure wearing a death's head, brandishing aloft two bottles. Cavendar says he intends to repeat his "object parade" every time a car is wrecked, adding to the placard the names of those who sold the liquor.

Concerts given by Carroll's Waupaca band will start for the summer the first Thursday in June. The first program will be announced next week. Benches have been placed in the courtyard square and everything is being made in readiness for the coming season.

Local women in charge of the Eighth district convention of Women's clubs here Thursday and Friday are desirous of having a large attendance at Palace theater Friday when Judge Backus of Milwaukee, will deliver an address on Youth, America's Greatest Asset. FORMER CICERO MAN'S WIFE IS SHOT BY SISTER

Mrs. J. A. Schindler, Blind, Is Killed by Woman Who Then
Shoots Herself

Special to Post-Crescent
Black Creek — A former Cicero man's home at Oklahoma City, Okla., was the scene of a tragedy occurring last week, according to word received here. The blind wife of J. A. Schindler was shot and killed by her insane sister. Mr. Schindler resided at the farm of Anton Barth while at Cicero. He moved to Marshfield with his parents about 34 years ago and had since gone to Oklahoma City to make his home. An account of the murder and suicide as given in an Oklahoma paper reads: Mrs. Emma Schindler, a blind woman, was shot and instantly killed at her home, 1620 West Park place, at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 12, at Oklahoma City, Okla. The fatal bullet was fired by her sister, Mrs.

Bertha Henzig, who had been adjudged insane early in the day by the county sanity board. Mrs. Henzig, after killing her sister turned the gun on herself and inflicted a wound from which she died an hour later at a city hospital. Deputy sheriffs were on their way to the home to take Mrs. Henzig into custody. Mrs. Schindler, her husband and daughter had stayed in the house all during the day with the insane woman. J. A. Schindler, the husband, had stepped from the house to use a neighbor's telephone to inquire about the county officers when the shooting occurred. Four shots were fired; one struck the helpless blind woman in the mouth and killed her instantly. The insane woman then shot herself in the head.

VARICOSE VEINS
ARE QUICKLY REDUCED

No sensible person will continue to suffer from dangerous swollen veins or blemish when the new powerful, yet harmless germicide called Esmolol Oil can readily be obtained at Voigt's Drug Store.

Ask for a two-ounce original bottle of Esmolol Oil (gilt strength) and refuse substitutes. Use as directed and in a few days improvement will be noticed, then continue until the swollen veins are reduced to normal. It is guaranteed and is so powerful, that it also reduces enlarged glands, gonitis and warts.

Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store, Great
Offer to Chronic Rheumatic SufferersMoney Back If Allenhu Fails to Do You More Good
Than Anything You Ever Used.

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cured rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen. I know that Allenhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains reduce the swollen joints."

"I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me."

"I feel because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease."

Allenhu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days—even in cases where the suffering has been most painful all traces have disappeared in a few days.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenhu, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases.

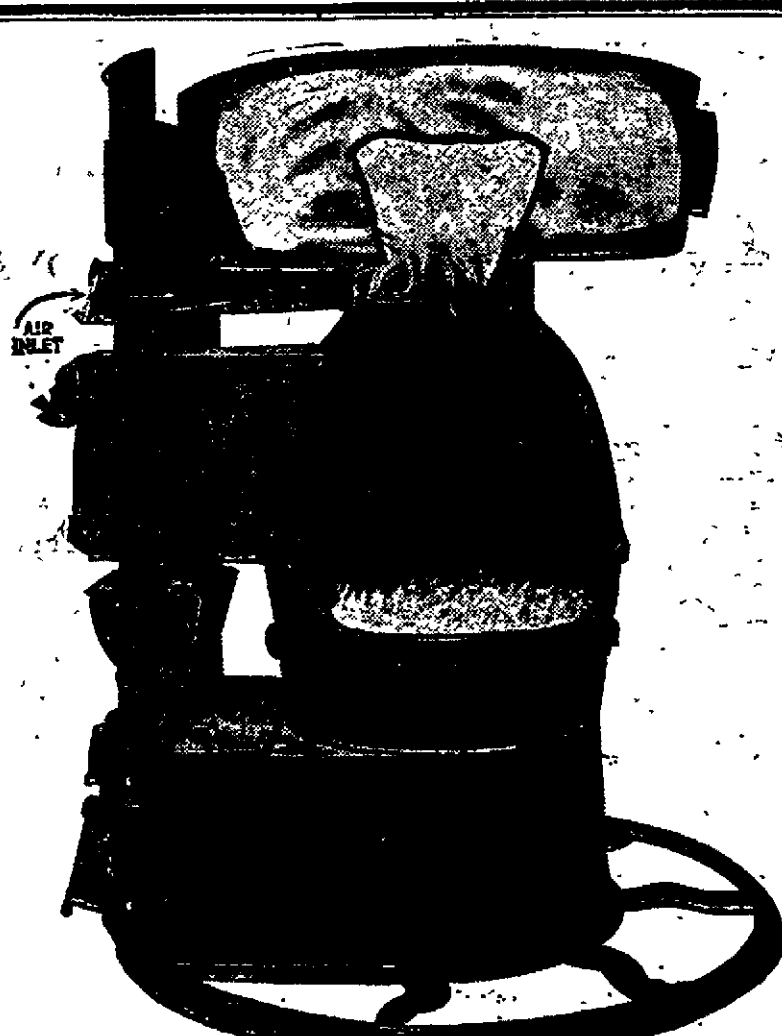

With this understanding he has instructed Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to guarantee it in every instance.

"Dry" U. S. Drank 4 Billion Quarts Of Booze In 1924

BY LARRY BOARDMAN

Washington—Four billion quarts of illicit liquor were consumed in the United States during the past year.

This was an increase of one billion

quarts over the illicit liquor consumption of the year before.

The foregoing is not the estimate of either "Scoopflaws" or "Cellar-

Smellers," wet or dry.

It is based on figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce—

officially disinterested so far as prohibition is concerned.

It is, therefore, believed to be the first wholly unprejudiced estimate of America's illicit booze consumption

ever made.

The Commerce Department's figures were gathered by Dr. Rufus S.

Tucker, departmental special agent,

in the preparation of a report on our

"invisible exchange," or items not

appearing on the customs returns.

STUDIED FOREIGN RECORDS

In collecting data on the item of smuggling liquor—the chief unreported item of imports—Dr. Tucker

made a careful study of the recorded

exports, imports, and consumption

of liquors in neighboring countries.

"From this," he explained, "it is estimated that the value of liquor

smuggled into the United States was $30,000,000.

"In 1924 the value was approximately $40,000,000.

"These figures represent the amount received for the liquor by the foreign manufacturers. The estimates, which take no account of the liquor illegally manufactured in neighboring countries and sold here,

are considered by customs officials to be very low.

The average price received by the foreign manufacturer for his product

is a trifle less than $1 a quart—a price increased many hundred per cent by liquor runners, smugglers

and bootleggers before the product

reaches the American consumer.

MUCH LIQUOR MADE HERE

According to federal prohibition

unit officials, the amount of illicit imported liquor in the country is less than 1 per cent of the total illicit booze supply.

They base this estimate on the reports of William V. Linder, prohibition chemist.

During the last fiscal year Linder

analyzed approximately 90,000 samples of liquor seized by dry agents in all parts of the country.

Of these samples, he found less than one out of a hundred to be imported stuff.

From this the prohibition chiefs

draw the conclusion that for every

quart of "honest-to-goodness" booze

in the United States there are more than 99 quarts of colored alcohol.

CHERRY TREES WILL BE IN BLOOM BY SUNDAY

Practically all of Door-co will be covered with white blossoms by Sunday, it is predicted, and the roads, as in past years, will be crowded with sight-seers, attracted by this wonderful sight. The Rotary club of Sturgeon Bay has invited Milwaukeeans to drive up and see the orchards in bloom, and this is expected to make the crowds even larger than usual.

CHERRY AND RICHMOND STS TO BE PAVED THIS YEAR

REJECT THIRD PLEA TO DEFER CHERRY-ST WORK

Alderman Richard and Mayor Goodland in Debate on Property Owners' Petitions

Property owners on Cherry-st attempted for the third time Wednesday night to have their street eliminated from the 1925 paving program by presenting signed petitions to the mayor and council, but their request was overruled and Cherry-st will be paved this year. Richmond-st residents presented a petition for paving their street this year, and in consequence this also will be included in the 1925 program.

A number of property owners from the Third and Fifth wards were present in the council rooms at the meeting when Alderman George Richard presented the petitions of Cherry-st property owners, and heard the debate between Mayor John Goodland Jr., who led the attack on the deferment plan, and the two aldermen from the Third ward who backed the petition of their constituents.

THIRD PLEA

In presenting the petitions Alderman Richard said that it was the third plea of his constituents to have the paving of Cherry-st deferred to 1926. Alderman Charles Fose suggested that the matter be deferred to the committee of the whole, but when Mr. Richard insisted that he be settled in common council, he consented readily.

Alderman Mark Catlin stated that as the majority of property owners on Cherry-st objected to paving this year, he said, the paving of Cherry-st affected the whole city and would benefit every citizen. The only effect of deferment, would be in the interest on the expenditure for paving, he said, and the interest on the $20,000 appropriated for the pavement of Cherry and Richmond-sts by the county would offset the interest on the expenditure if the paving were done this year. He stated that the south approach to the Cherry-st bridge probably would not be constructed until the street north of the bridge is paved.

Alderman Richard replied that the interest on their money was not the reason for the petitions of property owners. He said that they desired a delay in order to attempt to get more aid from the state and county, but several of the other council members feared that the county highway commission might withdraw all aid of more money was requested for Cherry and Richmond-sts.

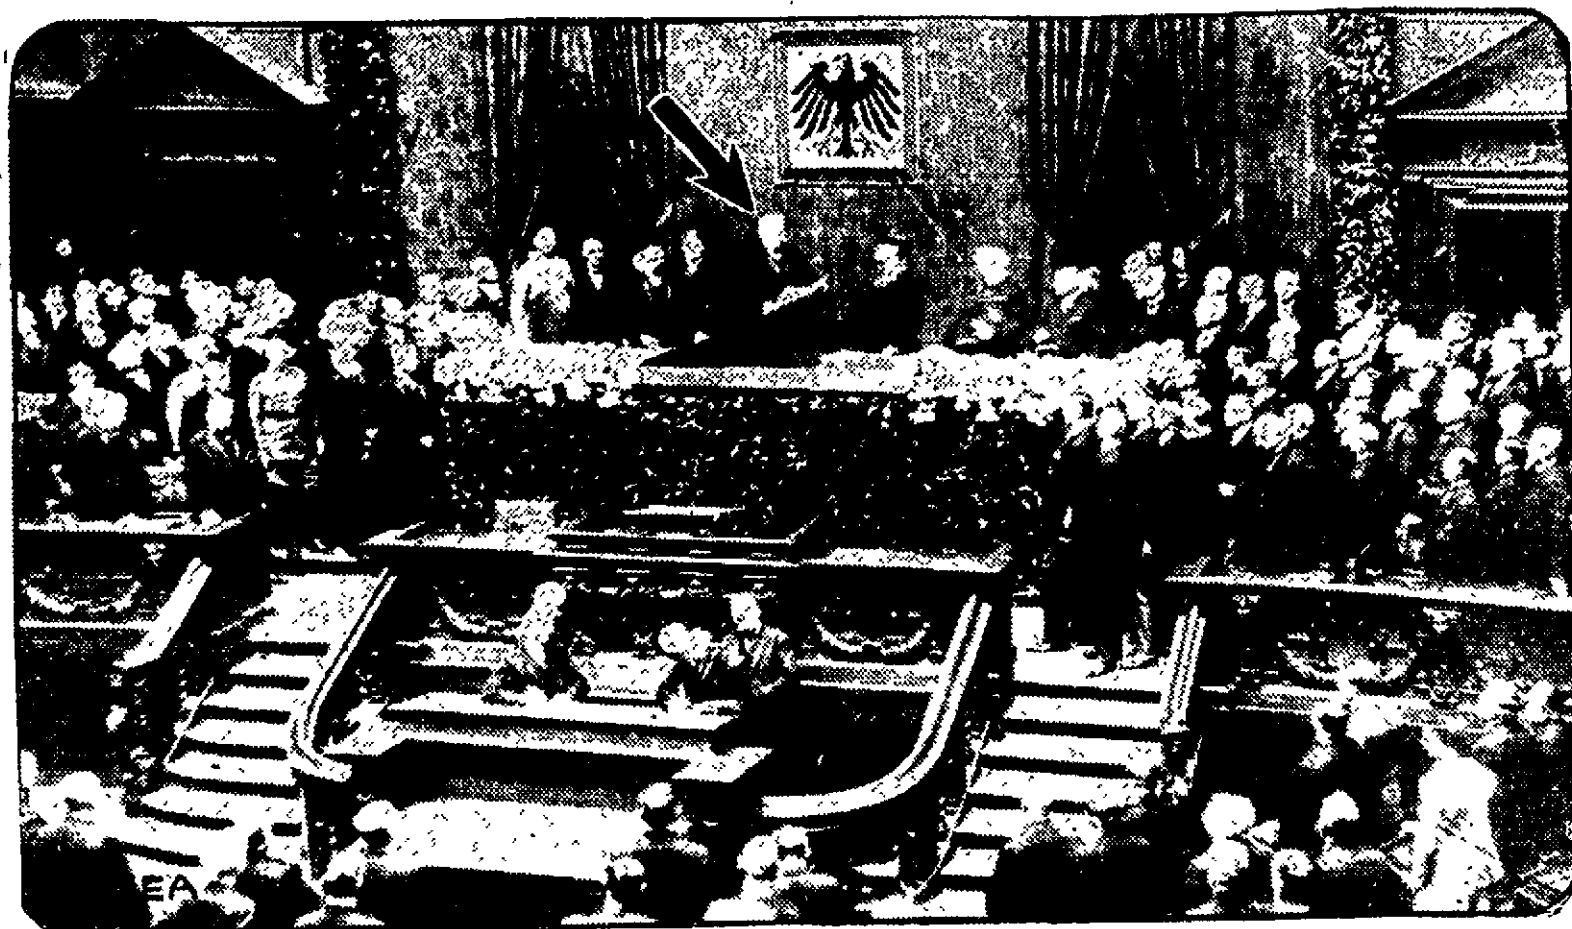

PAVE MORE STREETS

Alderman Charles Thompson reminded the council that the city will require state and county aid for the pavement of several streets in the 1926 program, and said it would be unjust to deprive these streets of aid in favor of Cherry and Richmond-sts.

Mike Steinhauer, alderman from the First ward who had been appointed chairman of a committee of three to seek more aid from the county board at its last session, then resigned as chairman, stating that the committee had been unable to fulfill its purpose because of the badly muddled condition of the situation.

The mayor replied that Alderman Steinhauer refused to confer with the county board at its last session when he saw the mayor and the board of public works in the court house. He said that Alderman Steinhauer turned around when he saw the board of public works and left the building.

"Nine per cent of the property owners on Cherry-st are opposed to paving this year," the mayor said. "I believe all the other residents favor paving, but the two aldermen from the Third ward will support the minority."

Why is responsible for circulating the petitions I do not know but I have heard that both of them originated with the same party. If the question were left to a vote of the people I'm sure 75 per cent would favor paving, and the aldermen should consider their ward as a whole and not only the one street.

"The Cherry-st bridge was built to benefit that end of the city, and now a few are trying to upset and tear down all the benefits that are due."

SUPPORT VOTERS

Alderman Smith replied that he favored pavements where ever possible, and that he had no knowledge of any petition until that evening, but that if the majority of his constituents objected to paving their street he must support them.

Mr. Richard then took the floor and explained where the petitions had originated. He recalled the meeting of property owners held in the Fifth ward school several months ago, and stated that the petitions had been formulated there.

"The original idea came from Alderman Fose, I believe, whose idea it was to get a vote on laying pavements in Sherman place," he said. "No person with any common sense can misunderstand the purpose of the petitions, for their purpose is plainly evident from the notations I made thereon in red ink at top and bottom."

"There is no secret about the petitions. I gave them to Charles Laus-

CREMATION OF BODIES UNPOPULAR IN ENGLAND

By Associated Press

London—It is the task of the Cremation society to popularize that form of burial in England, but it is making slow progress. In the past year there were only 1,986 cremations in Great Britain.

The argument the society advances is that dusty, dirty, crowded Britain is no place for the final abode of the body, and that the country could be made beautiful by handsome mausoleums instead of open spaces in the cities being taken from the living for the use of the dead.

man to circulate. Whether he did it or someone else I don't know, but I can't see anything wrong in circulating them."

The mayor denied that he was accusing anyone of anything wrong, but said that it was known to every one that Charles Lausman and Joseph Grassberger were opposed to paving. "Anyone can get up a petition to hang any one of the aldermen if he likes," the mayor said, "and what's more, he probably would get enough signatures to do it, too."

"Do you mean that undue influence was exerted in getting these petitions signed?" demanded Richard.

"No, I do not," replied the mayor. "but it was wrong to circulate the petitions. It is easy enough to get signatures to almost anything without saying much."

When the roll was called Alderman Richard and Smith were the only ones who supported the petition to defer paving, while the other ten all favored paving Cherry-st this year and the petition was rejected.

Roaring Audience Greet Shuberts' "Passing Show"

"A good time was had by all" probably is the way the Punkin Hollow Screacher would describe the hilarious evening which the Shuberts' "Passing Show" provide for seven or eight hundred persons in Fischer's Appleton theatre Wednesday evening. "The Passing Show" was advertised as about the most entertaining production that would come this way this year—and it made good on the advance promises. There were more hearty laughs packed away in the two and one-half hour's entertainment than Appleton folks have been able to get out of a show in a good long time.

"The passing show" isn't such great shakes as a musical entertainment but it is a whiz as a dancing, laughing rollicking conglomeration of vaudeville and nonsense.

Messrs Lee and J. J. Shubert, under whose direction the Passing Show is produced don't need any pointers on picking beauties for their choruses. Folks in Appleton didn't know there were that many pretty girls in the world—outside of Appleton. Miss Margaret Breen, one of Messrs Shuberts' stars, was real entertainment. One could almost hear the Romeo in the front seats moan about "them eyes" and "those hair" and... and... oh well as Miss Breen danced and laughed and entertained. There were a lot of aching sides in the house along about the middle of the first act when Gus El Brendel and Flo Flo Bert put on their skit. Gus, who played the part of a Swede, sent the audience in a paroxysm of laughter when he tried to dance without first taking the precaution of hitching his trousers to a pair of suspenders. He pulled a lot of similar nonsense and it was with something of a sense of relief that the audience saw him leave the limelight. If he had remained much longer it is probable a flock of folk would have collapsed from sheer exertion of laughing.

Another star who deserved all the applause he got—and he got plenty—was Georgie Price. He is one of the most versatile entertainers seen here in many a day. Price can dance, talk, sing, whistle and about everything else that an entertainer is supposed to do, and he can do it well.

The Shuberts sent an excellent company to Appleton. There wasn't a weak part in the performance and the folks who were fortunate enough to be in the audience had a lot of fun for a couple of hours.

American Electric Light Cabinet Bath also Needle Shower and Plain Tub Bath

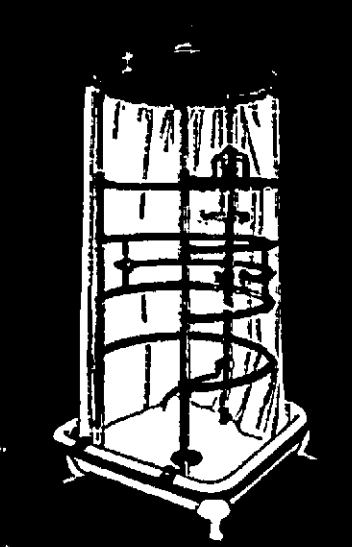

American Electric Light Baths

There are innumerable methods of bathing, but regrettably, many of them "only scrub the roof"—they serve only to bathe off the impurities which happen to be on the surface at the moment. Only in the "Burdick" are the pores opened wide and a copious perspiration established. Meanwhile, the circulation of blood is stimulated, deep breathing is prompted, highly oxygenized blood is carried to the remotest fibres of the body—flushing them clean of all impurities, washing the debris of accumulated bacteria, broken down tissue, and other waste matter, to the surface, where the established perspiration gives it free egress.

The influence of the Electric Light Bath is not confined to augmenting the elimination by skin and lungs. The other emunctories—the kidneys and bowels—are also favorably influenced. This is particularly true in constipation. The removal of abdominal venous stasis by the production of an active and gradually increasing permanent arterial hyperemia in the skin dissipates a very common contributing cause to many cases of constipation. The intestinal musculature is stimulated and peristalsis increased. It will often be found that a constipated patient may feel an improvement after only one bath; and a series of baths, coupled with the proper hydrotherapy, accomplishes very encouraging results.

At the same time, the re-vitalized circulation has done its work in accelerating to full efficiency every organ to vital functioning; the whole being accomplished in an atmosphere of constantly circulating fresh air, made possible by the patented Burdick ventilating features. You leave the bath with lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, bowels and skin perfectly normalized.

Plaids Back In Fashion This Spring

There is something so bright, cheerful, and irresistible about plaids that one is always glad to see them make their appearance or rather reappearance in the pages of fashion. Plaids have been much in evidence this year, principally as a trimming note, or in combination with plain material in ensemble fashion. They have added a dash to the mode which is comparable to the service rendered by saucy in the cuisine.

But here is a charming little dress which comes boldly, as one might say, "in plain plaids" and is for a favor, which it has no trouble in securing, for it presents a most attractively fresh and young aspect. Moreover it is a forerunner of the fashion fact, which we are apprised by Henri Creange, Cheney authority on style, that the plaid will be the dominating theme of the Spring printed silks. But this is by way of digression only, and something so tucked away in the corner of our minds until needed.

To come back to the dress under consideration, it is in colorings of grey and red, and is made in simple "crossed-over" style, fastening on the left side. There are two slightly shaped flounces, lapping one over the other, and with a row of buttons down the side as ornamentation. The bodice opens on a glimpse of grey Crepe Chenette with trimming of small white buttons. The sleeves are negligible and engaging. A wide red leather belt passing through a slit in the upper flounce gives the finishing touch to this simple and young frock.

WATER LILY FROCK

Here is the water lily frock, one of the loveliest of summer creations, in flesh colored georgette crepe, embroidered in crystal beads and fringed with crystal fringe. A large silk water lily with very realistic looking buds forms the shoulder corsage.

SPRINGTIME IS LAMB SERVING TIME FOR WIFE

Springtime is lamb serving time for the economical housewife.

Since this is the season for lamb, every housewife can well afford to introduce this mild-flavored and nutritious food into the bill of fare. For the young housewife, the Wisconsin department of home economics gives suggestions for the buying and preparing of this food.

Lamb may be distinguished from mutton quite easily. The bone of lamb is pink and slightly porous in comparison with the white and more brittle bone of mutton. The lean of mutton is a dull red color which is much darker than the lean of lamb. However, both types of meat have practically the same texture of lean and hard white fat.

There is no reason why the flavor of lamb should be objectionable if the outside skin or "fell" has been removed. This is tough and oily and when left on gives the meat a "wooly" taste.

Lamb chops and leg of lamb are not the only cuts which may be purchased. The forequarter, then, are the shoulder, neck, breast, rib chops (from which the crown roast is made), and the shank. All of these cuts are inexpensive with the exception of the rib chops. In the hindquarter are the well known but also more expensive cuts known as the loin and the leg.

ROAST SHOULDER
The shoulder may be boned and used for a roast in much the same manner that the leg is used. To prepare a shoulder roast, wipe the meat off with damp cloth and place it in an uncovered pan in a hot oven. Sear the lamb on both sides. Remove from the oven, salt, add one-half cup of water, and top with two strips of bacon. Cover the meat, and roast it in a medium oven for about one and one-half hours.

The neck and shank may be used for stews and soups. The breast, which is streaked with fat, may be used for stews, meat loaf, or it may be rolled stuffed and roasted. The leg is used almost entirely for roasting. Although it is more expensive than the shoulder, it contains less fat and is juicier. The hons cuts are used for chops and roasts.

CREAMED OR STEWED
Lamb may be creamed and served in pastry shells. Make a white sauce by melting four level tablespoons butter and four level tablespoons flour. Mix in two cups of milk, and stir to avoid lumping. Season with one teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Serve hot in pastry shells.

A lamb stew is inexpensive and appealing. Sear the lamb which has been cut into cubes. Add one cup of boiling water for every pound of meat. Cook until the lamb is about half done, salt and add six parboiled onions, eight small potatoes and six small carrots. Finish cooking, thicken with flour, and serve with baking powder biscuits.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Breakfast—Baked bananas, cereal, thin cream, broiled bacon, watercress, brown bread toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Creamed dried beef, baked potatoes, whole wheat bread, stewed rhubarb, plain cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Lamb stew with dumplings, steamed brown rice, new carrots in cream, jellied tomato salad, coconut cream pudding, milk, coffee, graham bread.

Whenever possible to add a "green" to the breakfast menu make an effort to do so. Watercress is especially welcome on the breakfast table because of its spicy flavor. Bananas being a mild fruit need the tang of the cress.

While children under school age are not supposed to eat uncooked bananas they may have these baked bananas which are of much food value.

BAKED BANANAS

Six bananas, 2 dessertspoons melted butter, 4 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Remove fruit from skins and scrape off the fuzz. Cut in halves lengthwise. Put into a shallow pan. Mix butter sugar, salt and lemon juice. Pour half this mixture over the bananas. Bake in a moderate oven basting frequently with the remaining mixture. Bake 20 minutes. Bananas need not be so ripe when they are cooked, as the heat converts their starch into sugar. Many persons harboring a "personal antipathy" for the uncooked fruit find it perfectly easy for them to digest baked bananas.

Adventures Of The Twins

BIMBO TAKES A RIDE

When Bimbo the Clown heard that spring had come and that it was time for the circus to begin, he did a little dance of joy.

The March Hare and the Twins had, hunted and hunted for him and finally they had found him in a fine big theater.

"This is finer than a circus!" said Nancy in surprise. "Would you like to leave here?"

"Nothing is finer than a circus," said Bimbo. "Sawdust is much grander than red velvet carpet, and poles and ropes are much more wonderful than gold curtains and painted walls. Oh boy! I can smell the peanuts roasting already, and hear the band going tum-tum-tum, and hear the lions roaring, and the wagons going rumble-bumpy-bump!"

"It's time for your act," said the stage man knocking on the dressing room door where they were all talking.

"We're in a great hurry," said the March Hare, looking at his watch. "It will only take me about twenty minutes," whispered Bimbo. "You three can stand out in the wings and watch. Then I'll go with you right away."

So Bimbo went out on the stage and somebody brought in a white horse from the other side, and then Bimbo jumped on the horse. He jumped on and jumped off and tumbled somersaults and stood on his head while the horse was running.

Caught!

NO doubt you were guilty of this same stunt when you were a kid. So don't be too hard on him. He's only satisfying that craving all youngsters have for sweets.

Let him have Life Savers and you'll meet this problem in just the right way. They do not upset little tummies or hurt tiny teeth. Children love them.

Fashion Plaques

LACE JABOT IS VERY CHIC

The blouse of this season has lost something of its severe simplicity and a large lace jabot is quite apt to cover the territory between the collar and belt. For the tailored suit this is the ideal accomplishment, and the femininity of the wearer is enhanced.

And hung by his tail, the horse's tail, of course, and did so many wonderful things the Twins could scarcely get their breath.

"I never knew that clowns were so smart!" exclaimed Nick.

"Neither did I," said Nancy.

"I thought that all they did was to make people laugh," said Nick.

"It takes smart people to make people laugh," said the March Hare solemnly. "There! That's over. Now we can be going."

Bimbo bowed himself off the stage while the people in the theater were laughing and clapping. He made so many bows that he nearly stepped on his three little visitors who were standing behind him.

"Oh, here you are!" he cried. "Now you run along and tell the Circus Man that I'm coming on the first train."

"No need—we have magic along," said the March Hare. "You are to come with us." And what do you think? Out of his pocket he took another pair of magic shoes like the ones the Twins wore. Bimbo put them on without a word.

"Now hop on, all three of you," said the hare.

Bimbo had to obey—he was so surprised. He began to shrink until he was exactly the proper size—and then he was on the hare's back going madly down the street with the others.

WAS NOT FIT TO DO HER WORK

Dreadful Condition of Mrs. Fullerton's Health Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Clearfield, Pa.—"I cannot begin to tell you how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me in every way. Before taking it I couldn't stand on my feet without pains running all through my whole body from my waist down, just like threads pulling. I was not fit to do any work. My mother got me to try the Vegetable Compound and I have found great benefit, and I not only recommend it for such troubles, but to build up the whole system. I have used it for most everything that gets wrong with me. When I begin to feel nervous and irritable I don't stop long in getting a bottle of the Vegetable Compound if I haven't got one in the house. It gives a fine appetite and makes a new woman of me. You may use this testimonial in my own town or anywhere else, and I will answer any letters I receive."—Mrs. RUSH FULLERTON, 625 S. 2nd Street, Clearfield, Pa.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

LET CHILDREN GROW UP WITH GOOD PICTURES

The influence and effect of surroundings upon the plastic mind of the child cannot be over-emphasized. For this reason pictures to hang in the nursery add for very careful selection; they are in intimate part of the child's life, capable of producing pleasant or unpleasant memories in later days. What better then than to turn to famous artists for subjects that children will appreciate for intrinsic childish appeal, while the standard of art is high and inspiring?

MANY GOOD PRINTS

Costly reproductions are by no means essential in these days of color reproduction. The finer shades of printing that attract the adult are of but little account to the child. It is the subject that attracts.

In choosing a range of pictures for the nursery one could proceed in this way. There could be pictures based on religious emotion and con-

through miles and miles of country. "Oh, there's a cute little pig!" said Bimbo. "I have to have a pig to take along."

So they stopped long enough to pay the farmer for his pig and then they went on again. Nancy, Nick, Bimbo and the pig—all on the hare's back.

And after while they reached the circus where the elephants and all the animals were being spring-cleaned, and the red wagons smelled of fresh paint.

"Hello!" cried the Circus Manager. "Here you are. Hello, Bimbo. I'm glad to see you. Ready for work?" Bimbo laughed. "I've been working hard all winter, sir. Now I'm ready for play."

Nancy, Nick and the March Hare stood by listening. There was more work for them to do.

ected with the Babe of Bethlehem, as well as pictures revealing all the artless charm and winsomeness of childhood. Again, there might be pictures recording incidents in the childhood of famous men, and pictures also that might stimulate imagination or foster noble aspirations. Taking the first group, a beginning might be made with Reynolds's well-loved Heads of Angels, and these might complement the incident so beautifully depicted in Correggio's Holy Night. The stately composition of Burne-Jones' Star of Bethlehem has charming attendant upon childhood with the group of mystic kings with costly gifts and offerings. Of living interest, too, would be the intensely human Christ in the Carpenter's Shop by Millais.

Akin to this in sentiment and tender appeal is The Saviour in the Temple, the full flower of Raphaelite art as seen in Holman Hunt's work.

FOR OLDER CHILDREN
For our second group there are many from which to choose, as childhood has long been a favorite subject for the artist. Reynolds with his Age of Innocence would easily claim first consideration, though Lawrence's studies of childhood perhaps possess an equally popular appeal. His Nature or Child with a Kid would add distinction to any collection, and Raeburn's Boy with a Rabbit must not be overlooked. It would of course, be quite impossible to ignore the Blue Boy—Gainsborough's tribute to boyhood days—or Velazquez's pictures of the quaint little infantes of his time.

For the third section suggested there is a wide field from which to make a selection. The Boyhood of Raleigh, by Millais, grips the imagination of the growing boy and instinctively inspires. Margaret Dicksee's Child Handel possesses, too, a delightful interest for childhood, and the story which it records might be expected to add interest to otherwise dreary music lessons. The inventive mind will find stimulus in Marcus Stone's version of Watt's Discovery of Steam. Incidents so graphically recorded as these are will become part of the lives of children, and may carry their influence far into the future.—London Mail.

THIS IS TIME TO PUT IN HOME EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Taxpayers entitled to the home-stand exemption are extremely slow in presenting their claims to E. L. Williams, city clerk, and unless they file them within the time limit allowed, they face the prospect of paying taxes on the full valuation of their property.

Mr. Williams has offered to help fill out the blanks, and a number of people have availed themselves of his help. In many cases, however, taxpayers failed to provide themselves with the information necessary to fill out the blanks before applying to the clerk for his help, and had to be sent home to look over their tax receipts for a description of the property. For this reason Mr. Williams urges applicants to bring their tax receipts with them to his office.

COUNCIL DEFERS FINAL ACTION ON PAVING BIDS

Expect to Award Contracts
Next Wednesday if Proposals Are Tabulated

Bids for paving streets on the 1925 program will be passed upon by the common council on May 28, at an adjourned session. It was decided by the council Wednesday night. The bids must be tabulated before they can be brought before the council, and it was impossible to get this work done in time for Wednesday's session. The dedication of Cherry-st bridge on May 26 made it necessary to defer action one day, and May 28 was set as the date of the next meeting.

The council referred petitions for the oiling of Atlantic, Vine and Wood-st to the street and bridge committee and authorized the purchase of a carload of calcium chloride for experimental purposes as a substitute for oil on certain streets.

MAY REMOVE FLAGMAN
The common council failed to take action on the suggestion of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad that the flagmen's house on crossings at State-st, W. College-ave and Locust-st be removed, and replaced with electric lights and bells. These automatic signals would be operated by one man from a concrete station which would be erected at the W. College-ave crossing and would deprive several watchmen of their work. A similar suggestion was made several years ago. Alderman George Richard said in opposing the measure, and at that time met with strong opposition by residents of that part of the city. The question was referred to the street and bridge committee.

The street and bridge committee recommended that the city engineer be instructed to have the motor operating the stop and go traffic signals at the intersection of College-ave and Oneida-st removed from the city hall to the fire department barns, and the council approved the recommendation. The chairman of the street and bridge committee was authorized to purchase a new Ford car in place of the one now in use.

STEINHAEUER OBJECTS
The motion to adopt recommendation to cinder and grade Union-st at the section where the Sombke property was condemned in court proceedings was acted on separately when Alderman Steinhauer objected to grading the street without acquiring the property in question, so that a considerable job would result. When the vote was taken on this matter all aldermen with the exception of Steinhauer voted to accept the recommendation, and Steinhauer's objection was overruled.

On motion of Alderman Thompson, plans for paving S. Appleton-st from Lawrence-st to Prospect-ave were recommended and the engineer instructed to draw up new ones. This was done because the old bench mark had disappeared, and it is therefore necessary to establish a new one.
Bidders will be installed at the following points: Southeast corner of Morrison-st and College-ave, southwest corner of Appleton-st and College-ave, northwest corner of Superior-st and College-ave and the northeast corner of that intersection. The type of bidder will be decided upon by the fire and water committee.

NEW ORDINANCE
A proposed ordinance affecting the regulation of electrical wiring and equipment for control, production, modification, regulation and safe-guarding of electrical energy and establishing the office of electrical inspector was referred to the committee on ordinances.

The matter of engaging an engineer to make the sewer survey, decided upon at the previous meeting of the council was referred to the street and bridge committee for further investigation.

The suit of Peter Trass, a grocer, to recover damages from the city for the wrecking of a Ford delivery truck was referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney Mr. Trass claims that the truck was wrecked through the negligence of the street department in failing to keep the street, formerly known as Maple Grove-st, in repair. His truck got into a rut and struck a telephone pole.

The request of the water works commission for raising hydrant rentals was disallowed by the council on recommendation of the committee of the whole. Reports from about 30 cities were brought before the committee, and given to the street and bridge committee to place on file.
An appeal by the Appleton chapter of the D. A. R. to preserve old landmarks referred to the street and bridge committee. The D. A. R. petitioned the council to change the name of Badger-ave back to State Road, and offered to pay the expenses of street signs.

BELOIT FAIRIES MEET PAILS IN SUNDAY BATTLES

Several Former Major League Stars In Lineup Of Crack State-line Team

Manager Pierce May Shift Lineup to Put Worden on Second if Muench Returns

With a lineup that would do credit to a world series contender, the Beloit Fairies, a leading Midwest crew for several years, will meet the Menasha-Pais in a double bill starting at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Menasha park. The Fairies, by copping, can leave the cellar berth, while the second-place Pais can climb into first if Kenosha has a little bad luck.

The Fairies lineup includes stars of both major leagues. Eddie Gharrit, catcher, was the batting star of the Washington Senators until late in 1923. Bobby Roth roamed the outfield for Cleveland, Washington and New York, gaining most of his fame with the Yanks. Ray Thomas, fielder, and Hippo Vaughn, pitcher, went big with the Cubs. The Cubs wanted Vaughn back for quite a while after he had dropped from the league. Other former American league players are Bretton and Haddock, infielders, formerly of the White Sox, and Elmer Miller, star slugger of Minneapolis, Boston and the Yanks. Carl East led the American Association in batting for two years and spent a year as a regular with Washington. The pitchers include Vaughn, Tom Phillips, Minneapolis A. A. star, Dan Tipton, formerly with Minneapolis and the Yanks, and Carl Cashlon, Minneapolis and the Senators.

Manager W. H. Pierce probably will start Capt. Joey Muench at his regular shortstop job as his arm appears to be about healed and this will send Lennie Zellinski back to his old stamping-ground at third. If Wurtz is not ready to go to second once more, Piggy Worden, who has been showing real stuff both at bat and afield will get the job. Al Cisse, who clouted a triple and single for two out of four Pail hits Sunday, will hold down the outfield with Johnson and Corey.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

The question of the day among local ball followers is, "Who's going to be the first team to trim the Legion?" The new Lark loop team has cleaned every other crew in the field and seem to be unstoppable. We think this question is important enough for consideration so we are about to conduct an inquiring reporter for ye Lark leaguers. Send your answer in and have the honor of being the one to guess right. The first answer for any team will be saved and the correct guesses will receive the cast iron soft ball after the soldier's first defeat and have his name cried out to the heavens.

Walter Johnson is still another example of the fact that age is hard on athletes. Real athletes who live up to athletics never get to be what is really old. Johnson not only pitches real ball, but is one of the few pitchers called in as pinch hitter. His home run drive set a new record for the Detroit park.

Rumors have it that Billy Evans, wise old strategist of baseball, and world's leading umpire, may yet replace Ty Cobb as manager at Detroit. The bosses are perfectly satisfied with Cobb but the fans are after blood. Although Evans probably would make a classy manager, we can't see where that lets Ty out. He put the team on the map for the last few seasons and kept it there and with a little tough luck now is near the bottom. Immediately some more work for the Anvil Chorus.

Track hopes at Lawrence were given a bad bump when Bob Hipke fell on. With the first well divided, the team scoring the most extra points was in for a great time. Bob was sure of places in the discus, javelin and shot put, with chances for a first in the later. Lawrence's chances now are very good for second place, according to Coach A. C. Denny. Well done has been upset before and we expect the fighting Blue to try hard enough to do it again.

Talking about tough breaks for the Falls here's one. Even a man who saw the game at Kenosha Sunday. In the last inning with a man on base and one run needed to tie, two to win, Corey slugged a drive to the fence which for a least three bases. A Kenosha fielder jumped against the fence and got it just on the tips of his fingers—and it stuck!

FUR SURE TO FLY IN BIG PAPERMAKER GAME

A rivalry of year's standing will be renewed at 2:30 Sunday afternoon when two of the strongest mill teams of the valley, Combined Locks Paper Co. and the Kimberly-Clark Co., meet on the Combined Locks diamond. Kimberly-Clark recently trimmed the strong Fox River Paper Co. squad of Appleton and is after the valley industrial title. Klund and A. Poon, hurlers, will top the mound for the Kimberly boys and a new star will hurl for their neighbors.

Paris—The cold and hostile treatment given him by Paris newspapers charged Jack Dempsey.

IN RECORD GAME

"MULL" HOLLAND
This star hurler for the University of Virginia got into baseball's hall of fame by beating Columbia University in a 17-inning game. It was one of the longest college tilts on record.

YALE AGAIN LOOMS STRONG IN ROWING

By NEA Service
New Haven, Conn.—Yale University, rowing champions last year and easy victor at the Olympic games, has another fine crew this year.

This was demonstrated the other day when the Blue oarsmen defeated Pennsylvania and Columbia on the Schuylkill River. They gave a splendid exhibition for so early in the season.

Only three survivors of last year's famous eight, are left. But Ed Leader, one of the greatest coaches in rowing history, seemingly has developed his new material to a fine degree.

Yale beat Penn. to the finish by two lengths and Columbia by 12.

The triumph was another tribute to the coaching abilities of Leader, who came out of the west with what looked like queer notions, but who now has even some of the veterans imitating his style and methods.

Yale hasn't lost a race since Leader took hold of rowing activities at the Bulldog institution in 1923. And that's saying quite a bit, considering the class of competition the Blue has been up against on the majority of occasions.

From the showing thus far, it appears that it will take a pretty classy outfit to beat the Yale shell to the final wire in any race it participates in this season.

In other words, it looks like another Yale year on the briny deep.

New York—Wilbert Robinson, for ten years manager of the Brooklyn national league team will succeed the late Charles H. Ebbets as president of the club.

Many Varsity Contests To Entertain State Preps

Madison — Final arrangements for the entertainment and housing of over 200 state high school athletes competing in the thirty-first annual state interscholastic track meet and the additional tennis and swimming tournaments at Madison, May 22-23, promise to make it the most successful meet ever sponsored by the University of Wisconsin.

The hundreds of athletes will be apportioned among the 30 fraternities who will act as hosts to the high school boys. These organizations have promised their best efforts to make for the comfort of a record-breaking entry.

Wisconsin's track team will meet the University of Minnesota in one of the fastest dual contests of the year Friday afternoon at Camp Randall, at the same place where the

WISCONSIN MAY HAVE OUTDOOR BOXING BOUTS

Madison — Outdoor boxing bouts would be permitted under a bill ordered engrossed in the state senate Tuesday. The bill is a substitute to the Chase bill which provided that the American Legion posts might conduct boxing bouts without obtaining a license from the state athletic commission.

The substitute was adopted after state legon officers had agreed to waive the license exemption as provided by the Chase bill.

The substitute bill merely amends the present law so as to permit boxing bouts to be staged in stadiums and amphitheaters, in addition to auditoriums and other buildings.

If passed by the senate, the bill will go to the assembly for concurrence.

BIG ENTRY LIST FOR TOURNAMENT

Blind Bogey Contest First Big Event on Buttes des Morts Golf Course

Entries for the blind bogey tournament of the Buttes des Morts golf club have been pouring in steadily since the tourney was postponed from Saturday, May 16, to Saturday, May 23, and a large entry list is in prospect. The regular greens will be used for the first time in this tournament, which is the first ever played on the Buttes des Morts course.

Each entrant will be permitted to state his own handicap in order to give the less expert players a chance against the veterans. Prizes have been donated by a number of Appleton businessmen for the winners. The course is said to be in excellent condition. Frank Walsh, the professional, has taken up his quarters at the club, and has been given instructions to members for several weeks, in preparation for the coming tournament. Anyone desiring to enter is to inform Mr. Walsh.

Baseball Simplified By Billy Evans

What happens when the batsman interferes with the catcher in fielding or throwing a ball by stepping outside the lines of the batsman's position, or in any other way interfering with that player?

There are several different penalties for such interference with the catcher on the part of the batsman. They differ with certain existing situations.

Play No. 1.—If there is a runner on third and one or no one out and the batsman interferes with a play being made at the plate, the runner from third is called out. The penalty is made as severe as possible by wiping out the chance to score a run.

Play No. 2.—With the same conditions existing and two out and the batsman interferes with a play at the plate, the batsman is called out. Since it makes the third out the penalty is put directly on the batsman.

Play No. 3.—In any other situation with runners on bases other than third, the batsman is always called out for interfering with the catcher and no bases can be run on the play. With less than two out at such a time the runners simply return to their original bases.

Cleveland—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, won a referee's decision over John Risko, Cleveland, in 12 rounds.

Philadelphia — Joseph Wright, for nine years head of the University of Pennsylvania oarsmen, resigned after a clash of authority.

IN SWIMMING SPOTLIGHT

Wayne Munn To Be In Best Shape Of Career For Lewis

Back to 254 pounds, and feeling fit and as strong as a young bull, Wayne Munn—who has a contract on his hands to attempt to wrest the world heavyweight mat crown from the classic brow of Ed Strangler Lewis in the afternoon of Decoration Day, Saturday, May 30, is fast getting back to the form he was in when he flashed on the horizon some five months ago and made wrestling history when he tipped Lewis for a couple of falls and later flattened all comers among the first line men in such quick and sensational a manner as to leave no doubt that he was at least entitled to a right good claim to vie with other contenders for the leadership of the division.

With Wayne's physical condition practically assured at 100 per cent perfect when the day of the clash rolls around, fans are busy figuring the probable result when the two mighty men buck into each other, but thus far, opinion is divided about fifty-fifty among the followers of the sport.

The peculiar situation in this pending battle is that while the giant challenger is anxious to gain height, the champion is doing everything in his power to take it off. 215, a pound or two more or less, is the goal Ed has set himself to reach by the time the day of rest arrives preceding the call of time for action and the Strangler is confident he will succeed in the task with no ill effects from the terrible ordeal. He states that he is right now down to less than 220 pounds and that in two weeks still before him, the extra ten pounds more, will slip off naturally and beneficially.

KANE THINKS TOM WILL K. O. TUNNEY

Gibbons Displays Firm Belief in Eddie's Managerial Powers in All Bouts

By Joe Williams
New York—If you know prizefight managers and their ilk you won't get particularly excited over this:

Eddie Kane, who pilots Tommy Gibbons, is betting his own jack on the St. Paul Irishman to win from Gene Tunney when they come together June 5.

What's more interesting, Kane is betting on Gibbons to knockout Tunney!

A lot of persons with mental gifts beyond those of a village half wit think Gibbons is good enough to make Tunney say uncle in a slow, reluctant manner, but only the ultra-brave suspect he is capable of a knockout.

Kane, however, thinks Gibbons is capable of anything. Kane actually thought Gibbons would whip Dempsey. That's why he agreed to match him with the champion out in Montana for nothing of less at the usual rate of foreign exchange.

Kane and Gibbons are more than just business associates. They are wonderful friends. You will never read of a split coming into the lives of these two like that which is now bringing the Meers, Dempsey and Kearns much undesirable publicity.

When Gibbons hangs up his gloves, Kane will cease to be his manager. Not before.

Kane's shrewdness as a manager has been questioned by the financial experts. (But never by Gibbons.) In these days, when any ham-and-egger can make a fortune out of knuckling, many have wondered why Gibbons failed to break into the fancy screen backs with greater frequency.

Gibbons answers that one for you, himself. "I'm not so easy to whip," explains Tommy. "The boys can make more money fighting the push-over. It takes two to make a match and I know the difficulty Kane has in setting most of them to meet me."

Even so, Gibbons is comparatively wealthy. He has nearly $200,000. For fighting Tunney he will get more than he ever got before for a single fight. The Dempsey fight—which he fought for nothing—was not exactly unprofitable. A vaudeville tour netted him $50,000. The publicity was vital, too. It is something to be known as the only man who ever stayed 15 rounds with the man-killer.

Six years ago Gibbons was fighting for $500 a purse. And in 1918 he fought George Chip in Pittsburgh for $250. His first big money came at $5,000 for battling Harry Greb. Later he fought Greb at Madison Square Garden and drew down $15,000.

That was "top" for him until last summer, when he got $40,000 for chasing Georges Carpentier in the Footrace of the Century at Michigan City.

Gibbons went to London last year to battle Jack Broomfield. He was awarded $75,000. Actually he got $15,000. The promoters didn't have

Sisler Fails to Connect in Game With Macks and Hitting Streak Ends

New York—Despite the loss of two regulars—Second Baseman Frisch and Third Baseman Groh—and the absence of Manager McGraw, who has been ill, the New York Giants are Thursday swinging blithely along in their championship stride.

George Kelly, utility player, rose to the occasion Wednesday in the role of second baseman by driving out his sixth home run of the current season with two on base. The Cubs went out of the ball game with the drive, 5 to 1.

Brooklyn dropped back into a dead lock with the Phillies for second place in the National League standing after four Robins pitchers had been buried under 22 Pirate hits. Meanwhile Philadelphia was busy taking the final game of the series from the out of three.

Cincinnati sent the Braves down 15 to 8, after gathering 16 hits off five Boston pitchers.

Connie Mack's Athletics defeated the Browns 8 to 6, to assume a two game lead on the World Champion Washington Senators. George Sisler's batting streak fell with other St. Louis hopes. The Browns' first baseman failing to get a hit for the first time this season. He had singled safely in 34 straight games.

Six runs in the ninth inning paved the way for Cleveland to down the Yanks, 10 to 9. Tris Speaker scoring the winning counter from first on a single by Pinch Hitter Shaute and a bad throw to the plate by Ward.

Led by Ty Cobb, the Tigers rallied in the eighth for four runs to obtain a 7 to 3 verdict over the Senators at Detroit.

Twenty bases on balls were donated by six pitchers in a game between Chicago and Boston which the White Sox won 10 to 7.

CRACK K-C ATHLETE IS KOHLER ATHLETIC HEAD

The Fox River valley lost one of its leading all-around athletes outside of scholastic circles when Louis "Louie" Loose, star of several Kimberly-Clark Paper Co. teams, left for Kohler where he has accepted a position. Besides his regular work in the Kohler plant, Louie will be director of athletics for the firm and will have complete charge of the recreational work. Louie has been the backbone of the K-C baseball teams for several years playing a good game at second base on the diamond, and he starred at basketball. This year he also acted as coach of the K-C cage squad and carried it through a successful season which ended with winning second place honors in the state amateur tournament at Racine. His work attracted the attention of the Kohlerites who had played against him in both sports for a number of years. He expects to bring the teams of his new affiliation to Kimberly for several games in the next year.

BATTLE OF CENTURY AT LOCAL ELK "FIELD"

Appleton sport followers who are looking around for something to do Thursday evening and who are unable to find a sporting event big enough to interest them might do well to visit the Elk club where a battle of wits is due to startle the sport world by morning. The battle will not take place on the diamond now in the ring, but across tables, for the local Elk bridge champs are entertaining their deadly rivals from Green Bay.

The Bay team lost on their home "field" last week and are out for a big revenge. Nothing could be sweeter than to trim the smart Appleton crew before the home crowd, they say, so the games are bound to be the real dope.

Everybody out—support the home team!

NUSS-GREB FIGHT ENDS 30 ROUNDS OF BOXING

Marquette, Mich. — Announcement was made here by officials of the Marquette Athletic association that a 30 round fight card which will be held here Friday night, June 5, including the bout between Harry Greb and Jimmy Nuss, principals in the night's card. The other bouts will be between Young Zulu Kid, of New York, former flyweight champion of the United States, and Bobby Schwartz, flyweight champion of Canada, and Andy Anderson, of Iron Mountain, and Carly Nelson of Detroit.

The Marquette promoters believe fans would far prefer to see three high class ring promoters of 10 rounds each than to view slow preliminaries. "We have endeavored to match good men in each division," one of the officers said, "and believe we have accomplished our purpose."

Showing flashes of real stuff which it kept up may make things interesting for the league-leading Post-Crescents and Footfitters, the newly organized Y. M. C. A. team pushed the fast-slipping Appleton Chair Co. crew farther into the cellar of the Twilight League Wednesday afternoon at Jones park. The play of the new team was ragged at times but showed great promise. The final score was 12 to 2.

The game was close until the final stanza with the "Y" crew leading 7 to 2. In the ninth four runs put them out in front and won the game, which had been tied three times. The pitching of King for the losers and Gehhardt for the Twilighters was excellent and with good support either would have won the game.

The work of Jack Diederich at short and Ashman behind the pan stood out for the winners. Dachelette starred on the paths for the Chairs, almost stealing three bases but being called back each time with his foot on the coveted sack when his batter fouled the ball. The lineup of the new crew included Briesse, Zussman, Ashman, Courtney, Bohon, Kevin, Reed, Murray, Reuter, Gebhardt and Diederich. Batteries: Y. M. C. A.—Gebhardt and Ashman; Zussman; Chairs—King and Ballheim.

athlete, and well-known as the star of the Neenah Booster professional basketball squad for the last few years, will occupy the mound for the home team. "Dutch" played the same position last year and hung up quite a record.

The complete lineup: Wall, pitcher; Frank Sars, catcher; Clifford Lind, first base; Ray Looker, second base; "Mooch" Lind, rightfield; Bob Bryson, centerfield; Steve Carroll, leftfield; Roy Russell and George Wohlt, shortstop; Bernard Verduin, third base.

COUNCIL HIRES HACKWORTHY AS BOSS OF STREETS

Assistant Superintendent Will Relieve Engineer of Street
Supervision

R. F. Hackworthy was engaged as assistant street commissioner at a salary of $200 per month at a meeting of the city council Wednesday evening, to take the burden of supervising street improvements from the shoulders of the city engineer. The hiring of an assistant street commissioner was decided upon by the council last month, at which time seven applications were heard. Mr. Hackworthy's application was not among the original seven, but he was approved by the council because of his many years of experience as paving contractor and his knowledge of street work in general.

The engagement of an assistant street commissioner is expected by the mayor and council to effect a great saving in expenditures for the maintenance and improvement of streets. While the city engineer retains the title of street commissioner and will sign all necessary documents and orders, his assistant will have direct supervision of street operations. The engineer, owing to the press of his regular duties, was unable to devote much time to supervising the work of street department employees, which sometimes resulted in the employment of haphazard methods, and the consequent loss of city funds.

Under the new system the assistant street commissioner will devote all his time to directing the activities of street department employees. He will keep close check on the materials used and on the hours put in by employees.

BUILD TOOLHOUSE
Another economy measure adopted by the council Wednesday night was the approval of a recommendation by the street and bridge committee that a tool house for the street department be erected on the stock fairgrounds. This, the council held, will permit the city to purchase supplies and materials in large quantities at a considerable reduction from retail prices. The surplus material will be stored in the new tool house and used when needed, where as at present tools and materials are bought in small quantities as needed.

The assistant street commissioner probably will keep close check on all supplies and materials going in and out of the toolhouse, and thus be able to eliminate waste through carelessness of employees.

The council did not decide when Mr. Hackworthy is to assume his duties as assistant street commissioner, but it is thought he will start on June 1. The new assistant commissioner stated he would be ready to begin at any time.

WERNER SINGS PRAISES OF SHAWANO LAKE

"Why travel hundreds of miles to reach good fishing grounds when you have them at your own front door?" says Judge Edgar V. Werner in setting forth the advantages of Shawano, his home town. Judge Werner's remarks were called forth by an article describing the escape of two fishermen from a forest fire north of Florence, which stated that the fishing camp frequented by the anglers was 350 miles from Platteville, their home. The judge stated that the fishing at Shawano is as good as in most other streams of the state.

The approaching completion of Camp Tivoli, a boys' camp sponsored by St. Norbert college on Shawano lake, will add to the attractions of that district, the judge stated. The opening of the camp has been scheduled for June 29. Jimmy Crowley, Green Bay, one of the nationally famous "four horsemen" of Notre Dame, has been appointed athletic director of the camp, and all the latest and most modern ideas have been incorporated in the institution.

FIVE BOYS HONORED BY "Y" BOYS' SECTION

Robert Eads, Edward Blesman, Frank Hardiman, Victor Weinlauf, and John Catlin were elected to the highest honor which any member of the boys' division of Appleton Y. M. C. A. can attain Wednesday evening. The boys were elected C men by their fellow members of the division. Boys who attain this honor have their name engraved on a large bronze C which hangs in the boys' lobby and only boys who have maintained the highest standards among their fellows are eligible. Their pictures are hung in the boys' lobby.

The C stands for "contagious Christian character" and the honor was awarded for the first time in 1917. No boy can have his name on the award more than once which eliminated Walter Moore this year. Moore gained the honor by being Supreme Hustler in 1924 and won that prize again this year.
